Community Based Treatment Centers (CBTC)
♦ The goal of developing CBTCs is to allow appropriate juvenile offenders to receive services in small community-based treatment centers where they live with a heavy emphasis on family involvement and effective re-entry and transition services
♦ During the past year, the University of Cincinnati (UC) has developed a 120-day cognitive behavioral treatment model to be used at the treatment centers
♦ To ensure fidelity to the treatment model, UC will provide ongoing quality assurance and has developed, and will provide, training and coaching for community-based treatment providers that will operate the programs
♦ It is anticipated the community-based treatment providers will be selected through a request for proposal process in early 2009, with the first facility being opened later in the year

Population Reduction
♦ The DYS population has reduced from an average of 1765 in January 2008 to an average of 1496 in December 2008
♦ A 24 bed unit, specific to revokers, opened October 1st, 2008 at SJCF

Family Advocacy Project
♦ DYS has received a grant from the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services (DJFS), in collaboration with the Governor’s Office of Faith-Based Initiatives (GOFBI), to create an advocacy program to address parental concerns of youth in DYS institutions and on aftercare
♦ Urban Minority Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Outreach Programs (UMADAOP) of Cincinnati and the Federation of Ohio UMADAOPs won the award in a competitive process
♦ Advocates provided by UMADAOP will establish relationships with families, youth in the custody of DYS, and faith-based, secular and other community organizations to:
  ♦ Assess youth and families needs
  ♦ Help families identify strengths and resiliencies to promote more positive interaction
  ♦ Engage families and DYS youth in pro-social activities
  ♦ Help families problem solve and identify/access services to address their problems
  ♦ Assist with juvenile justice, health and human services, housing and educational issues
  ♦ Empower families and assist them with taking an active role in re-entry planning
♦ Over 100 youth/families have received services through this initiative so far

Reentry Jobs Program
♦ Using Workforce Investment Act (WIA) funds, DYS partnered with DJFS to provide a reentry initiative that focuses on employment readiness, job placement and mentoring for DYS youth
♦ To date, the WIA Jobs Program has served over 500 juvenile offenders returning to Cuyahoga, Franklin, Hamilton, Stark, Summit and Medina Counties
♦ Youth involved in this initiative has seen a 51% employment rate and 40% of the participants have received their high school diploma, GED or vocational certificate while enrolled in the program

Parole Process Reform
♦ Collaboration continued with UC to review and modify the DYS release process
♦ In April, a stakeholder forum was held and input was given on the DYS release process
♦ A taskforce was formed and met throughout the summer to create a draft Release Authority plan that was submitted and is under review
♦ Work with UC has begun to determine “best practices” as they pertain to supervision and aftercare
♦ Special release review panels were conducted in Feb/May 2008 to identify youth at, or past, their minimum sentence expiration date (MSED), who could receive appropriate services from the community

Behavioral Health
♦ J-SOAP II has been moved from Reception to the receiving facilities (CJCF and CHJCF) in order to support the incorporation of the results into treatment rather than classification
♦ The three tier Sex Offender Treatment program has been integrated into a Standard Curriculum and a Low Need Curriculum where more emphasis on individualized needs is available
♦ Mental Health Units (MHU) are following a system of care model related to intensity of behavior manifested by the mental health disorder of the youth
♦ The Trauma Affect Regulation: Guide for Education and Therapy (TARGET) curriculum has been incorporated into treatment on the Intensive Mental Health Units and is being expanded for all of the female general population units and outcome data is being collected on the impact of this program
♦ Comfort Rooms are available on the Mental Health Units and on the female general population units per Policy 403.36 Trauma-Informed Care Services

Certification of State-wide Juvenile Sex Offender Treatment Programs
♦ Since the enactment of Senate Bill 10, all community based sex offender programs for juveniles can receive certification of program operations from DYS
♦ DYS has established a Juvenile Sex Offender Treatment Program Certification Advisory Board to administer juvenile sex offender program certification in Ohio
♦ Twelve applications for certification have been received to date and eight certifications have been issued

Education
♦ The overall GED passage rate for the Buckeye United School District was 83%; the state average of 79%
♦ The Customized Student Learning System’s roll-out was completed at every DYS school
♦ Over 700 computers were installed and a system for work orders has been developed to provide ongoing technical assistance
♦ A middle school curriculum was developed and is housed at Indian River High School and Ralph C. Starkey High School (Circleville)
♦ Many policies and procedures were submitted to the education consultant for review and feedback
♦ The Ohio Department of Education conducted a full audit of special education services in four DYS schools, and will continue evaluating the remaining four schools in 2009
♦ During 2008, 53 diplomas were distributed and 315 GEDs were awarded *

Community Facilities & Education

- DYS has begun a partnership with the Department of Education to improve the delivery of educational services to youth in Ohio’s juvenile justice continuum
- By enhancing both agencies’ administrative rules, a framework was established for local school districts’ to partner more effectively with juvenile justice residential programs in delivering each youth’s education
- The new rules will allow greater access to the State’s existing school funding process and bring additional resources to youth in juvenile justice facilities

Medical

- All medical policies have been submitted to the monitoring team and are being updated by DYS medical staff
- Benchmarking for a peer review process has begun for nurses and physicians
- The contract physician hours at SJCF have increased allowing the Medical Director to perform additional oversight for the Department
- DYS Medical and OSU Psychiatry Services are currently working on an ‘Agreement for Medication’ form that can be easily understood and used by youth
- Chronic care clinics are being provided at all facilities and recommendations for policy revisions of monitoring team member Dr. Shansky have been completed

Staffing

- A staffing post analysis was completed for all facilities
- Nearly 100 JCOs were hired from a large pool of applicants, consistent with the Stipulation Agreement requirements
- Mandating overtime has decreased significantly
- In April 2008, an extra week, called KIDS week, was added to pre-service
- KIDS Week program consists of the 3-day Advanced Verbal Strategies session, followed by planned intervention, positive reinforcement, and scenario-based training

Unit Management

- A “Pocket Guide to Unit Management” was created to provide an overview of the concept and underscore the importance of teamwork
- The theme, “DYSynergy at Work!” reinforces the need for adherence to the Unit Management model throughout the Department
- The Unit Management module at Pre-Service training has been revamped to include an interactive exercise entitled, “Unit Management Pursuit: There’s Nothing Trivial About It” to emphasize that from the beginning of an employee’s DYS career, the Unit Management concepts direct how DYS facilities operate
- A team of three facilitators trained the Marion Juvenile Correctional Facility Unit Management Team (including Unit Managers, Unit Manager Administrator and the Direct Deputy) on November 5th and 6th, 2008
- The remaining facilities will be trained on-site over the next few months

Role of JCO

- Beginning in August 2008, Deputy Director of Facility Programs and Operations, or a member of this division’s staff began briefing each Pre-Service class, primarily made up of JCOs, on how the role of the JCO will be changing from a sideline supervisor to a supervisor who is more engaged and who is involved with the youth in meaningful activities and programs
- A joint Labor / Management committee was formed with the purpose of defining and redefining JCO roles as part of providing continuous treatment to youth
Investigations
♦ The backlog of investigations that existed when the Stipulation Agreement was signed in May, has been caught up
♦ Additional investigators have been hired to enable the Chief Inspector Office to investigate critical incidents in a timely manner
♦ A weekly case management review was developed to ensure investigations remain timely

Grievances
♦ A youth forum was held to get feedback regarding improvements to the grievance process
♦ The grievance policy is being drafted for review with the subject matter expert

Conflict Management
♦ A ‘Conflict Management for Youth’ curriculum was developed for DYS by the Ohio Commission on Dispute Resolution
♦ Staff have been trained on administering conflict resolution training for youth
♦ In June 2008, the youth training program was piloted and over 200 youth were enrolled in the program
♦ In October 2008, the program was rolled out at all facilities and an additional 850 youth were enrolled in the program

Management of Youth Resistance
♦ Management of Youth Resistance national consultant, Steve Martin, conducted two workshops for DYS Administrators
♦ Mr. Martin worked with the DYS Chief Inspector and other DYS inspectors to discuss ways to improve management of youth resistance investigations
♦ Mr. Martin also conducted a workshop with OCSEA/AFSCME Union Presidents from each facility, Labor Relations officers, DYS Central Office personnel and Union Headquarters officials to provide a review of the law and how it applies to Management of Youth Resistance
♦ An action plan was developed that encompasses policy revision, management of youth resistance program evaluation and training, pre-service training update, annual in-service training update, planned intervention training for supervisors, specialized training and labor management support training
♦ The DYS Management of Youth Resistance policies, along with a summary of the training proposal, were approved by Mr. Martin

Youth Classification
♦ A security classification process has been developed to determine the risk a youth poses to the safety of the institution
♦ In late September, national consultant Jim Austin reviewed and approved the classification instruments and current draft policy
♦ UC provided MIS with the new reclassification tool to be developed into an electronic instrument
♦ All institutional staff will be trained on the new Classification policy and process by July 9, 2009

American Correctional Association (ACA) Accreditation
♦ All 12 Community Corrections Facilities have achieved accreditation through the ACA
♦ CJCF, IRJCF, and MaJCF all received ACA reaccredited

DYS Master Plan
♦ A Master Plan has been created to track the progress of implementing initiatives and provisions of the S.H. v. Stickrath Stipulation Agreement
DYS 2008 Highlights

Other areas
- A recent PbS survey indicates that the youth feel safer in our institutions than they did six months ago.
- The agency is on track to reduce the cost of youth phone calls to families per the recommendations of the Youth Call Out Phone System task force.
- Parole days were held at the facilities to allow the youth, the parole staff, Release Authority and social workers to meet and plan the youth’s reentry together.
- Talks were held with the Marion County Prosecutor's Office regarding shortening the bind-over and criminal charge process, both operationally and with long-term legislative changes.
- DYS facilitated a grant through the Office of Juvenile Justice Delinquency Prevention to fund an additional Marion County Assistant Prosecutor to help address the backlog of youth awaiting prosecution.
- A labor / management committee has submitted recommendations on managing STG activity, some of which will be included in the Master Plan.
- The length of stay at reception reduced from 40+ days to an average of 25 days.
- Bob Evans partnered with SJCF to develop a youth training program where youth will be trained on food service principals (Serve-Safe, etc) and then participate in this project to learn to cook “Bob Evans’ Way.”
- The Bob Evans project will be housed at the DYS Training Academy and will open for lunch in early 2009.
- DYS, in collaboration with DRC, DMH, DJFS, worked on an agreement to expedite Medicaid coverage for eligible youth upon release from DYS or other public facilities.
